

"If they're Rich's shoes they're proper."

(Entire Building.) Ten-one F—Cor. 10th. (Phone "one-eighty.")

Yesterday we closed the biggest week since the establishment of the Rich shoe store. The growth of this business is most encouraging. From a most humble beginning it has increased to wondrous proportions.

It is all the more of a satisfaction—this growth—because of the prophecies when we opened across the way of many shoe merchants of our immediate collapse.

And when we began to show novelty footwear in complete assortments then they vehemently declared that our failure was certain.

While not craving the credit, it is a fact that because of this store's progressiveness it is no longer necessary for particular people and those who follow fashion closely to send to New York for the correct fashions in footwear—for the distinctive and exclusive styles which have been approved by fashion setters.

Their showing here has been simultaneous with their showing in the leading shops of the metropolis. And our varieties have been equally comprehensive.

This not only applies to street footwear, but to evening, wedding, reception, carriage, shooting, hunting, riding, golfing, and fencing footwear, which at all times are shown here in a most complete assortment.

Particular attention is called to the splendid showing of footwear for weddings—and for the entire trousseaux.

Also to the stock of golfing footwear, for which the demand is so extensive just now.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Dinner Guests Entertained at the White House.

The President's classmates arrive on a special car—coming week to be notable for the number and prominence of its weddings.

The President entertained eleven of his classmates at Harvard at dinner last night. The guests came all the way from Boston to accept the invitation, the trip being made in a special car, the party starting at a quarter of eight and continuing until a half past ten.

At luncheon on Saturday, President and Mrs. Roosevelt's guests were Mrs. Egan, wife of Prof. Maurice Francis Egan, of the Catholic University; Miss Tyler, Mr. John Fox, Jr., Mr. M. E. Dane, and Major General McCook, U. S. A. Mr. James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad, was his guest at dinner the same evening.

Since her arrival at the White House Mrs. Roosevelt has received on each Friday afternoon a few of the personal friends who she made during her former residence in Washington. On last Friday the company was larger than on the previous days, there being a number of diplomatic friends and the wives and daughters of some of the Cabinet families.

That Queen Fashion is a depot of strict business methods is proved by the clock work regularity with which she manages her affairs. In July she transferred her court to the seashore. In September, to the mountains. In October, those of her varieties who intended to get married came home. They have been getting married ever since. Now that the majority of the season's brides and grooms have gone on their way rejoicing, and those few who are still to be wedded are waiting along in the late autumn must share their laurels with the debutantes, whose reign will shortly begin. With the annual deluge of coming-out teas will be mingled Thanksgiving and Christmas junketings, and after that the official season, which will keep up a perpetual motion of gay happenings until Ash Wednesday comes.

Particular attention is called to the splendid showing of footwear for weddings—and for the entire trousseaux.

Also to the stock of golfing footwear, for which the demand is so extensive just now.

Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Payson, the wife and daughter of Senator Stewart, will leave the city Wednesday for California. Mrs. Stewart will remain for a few months, for the benefit of her health, but Mrs. Payson expects to sail for Manila shortly, to join Major Payson at his post.

The marriage of Miss Parson and Mr. Wilson is announced to take place Tuesday. The bride is the only daughter of the late John S. Parson, and the groom the son of Mr. H. C. Wilson.

The ceremony, which will take place at high noon at the residence of the bride's mother, will have no attendants, and will be followed by a wedding breakfast, for which a large number of the invited guests have been sent out. Rev. Herbert Scott Smith, of St. Margaret's Church, will officiate. The bride will wear a gown of Sammit, and will be given away by her brother, Prof. John S. Parson, of Cornell University. Mr. Wilson will have as his best man his brother, Mr. Harry C. Wilson.

Cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oliver Cole, of New York City, for the wedding of their daughter Lillian to Mr. Samuel Owen Edmonds, formerly of Washington, on November 21, at St. Mark's Church, New York. Miss Cole is a granddaughter of the late Louis B. Brown, the founder of Elberton, Ga. Edmonds, of this city, is a lawyer practicing in New York. The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Edmonds, formerly of this city.

Among the coming weddings for November will be that of Miss Mamie Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carroll, of Washington, to Mr. Thomas H. Green, which will take place November 30, at St. Anisus Church, at 5:30 p. m. No cards.

The Excelsior Literary Club gave its first musical of the season Tuesday evening last at the home of Mrs. M. L. Willis, 141 N. Street. The parlors were filled to overflowing with members and friends. Mrs. L. W. McCroery, president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. L. Willis took charge of the program. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Annie May Bacon, Miss L. Lieberman, Mrs. C. E. Gause, Miss Naomi Braun, Miss N. H. Hollingshead, Mrs. George Labrousse, duets by Messrs. Gause and Reisman and the "Lullaby" by Mrs. G. L. G. Thomas, a recitation, "Niagara Falls," by Mr. H. A. A. B. Willis, E. M. Willis, Jr., John Gause, Mr. Tibbets and Major E. M. Willis.

Mr. Joseph Small and Miss Hattie Franklin Dalton will be quietly married during the coming week at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. J. A. Ansdale, 141 N. Street.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Nichols, who have been at Atlantic City, have returned to Washington.

Mrs. Shingleton L. Cooper, of 20 Twenty-second Street northwest, accompanied by her little daughter, Marie, left the city Saturday to spend a few weeks of the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Murray, in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Finckel have returned from abroad and are now at their home, 1125 S. Street. They will be pleased to see their friends Wednesday evenings in November, from 7 to 10.

St. John's Episcopal Church, Rippon, Va., was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday evening last, the contracting party being Miss Corinne Harris Davis, of Rippon, and Mr. Eugene Barrett, of Middleway. The bride party consisted of Messrs. Byrne Hurst, William Macgarity, and Lynn Grantham, of the county, and Mrs. Minnie Kirtz, of Washington; Miss L. R. Davis, of Jefferson County, and Mrs. E. D. Davis, of Lacy Springs. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Newton Davis, and the groom by his cousin, Mr. Hunt, Mason Timberlake. The bride's gown was of white organdy over white satin, with jacket of rennaissance lace, the veil, worn off the face, was caught with a white algrette. She carried a large bunch of white cosmos. The maid of honor wore lavender organdy trimmed with black lace, with large hat of black chiffon, and carried a basket of purple cosmos. The bridesmaids wore from the vestry to the strains of the "Lohengrin," which was played by Miss Ella Kirtz, of Wash., played by Miss Ella Kirtz, who came in with her brother, Dr. George Davis, and carried a basket of white organdy, big black chiffon hats and white of apparagus vine. The church was prettily decorated with Christmas anthems and overtures, the altar being brilliantly lighted with wax tapers.

The couple were married under a bell of evergreens. The bride party and parson, H. Hollingshead, were escorted by Harry Hill by the bride's parents, upon the return of the party from the church. The bride wore a gown of Sammit, and the groom, Mr. Barrett, wore a suit of gray. They were accompanied by Mr. H. A. Tibbets, and "John Ruskin," by Mr. H. Elbert Warren, recited a "Harp of a Thousand strings," and for an encore gave the "Bachelors' Song," a vocal solo was rendered by Mr. Barclay, accompanied by his daughter Alice, and one by Mrs. Gury, accompanied by Mrs. Clara, and Mrs. G. NEWS OF LANGDON. LANGDON, D. C., Nov. 2.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Northern Suburban Citizens' Association was held in Langdon Thursday evening. E. A. M. Lawson presiding and W. H. Francis, secretary. The occasion was the election of officers and the consideration of reports of important committees.

The report of the Committee on Lights, through Mr. J. J. Baker, chairman, was very favorable, it stating that the Washington Gas Light Company was ready to run the gas pipes into the different streets of Langdon as soon as the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company granted permission to cross under their tracks, and that the committee were assured that the permit would be granted at an early day.

The Committee on Railroad Crossings' Protection and Local Train Accommodations, through Mr. S. E. Hays, chairman, reported that the outlook was favorable.

The Committee on Schools, through Mr. E. A. M. Lawson, chairman, reported progress, and he also reported, relative to past legislation of the association, that the committee were assured that the District Commissioners calling their attention to the past requests of this association for street improvements, and that he was pleased to report that $5,000 had been included in the estimates for the extension of Twentieth Street from Emporia Street to the Brentwood Road.

The Committee on the Extension or Contracting up of New York Avenue from Eckington to the Reform School, through Mr. L. H. Patterson, chairman, reported that preliminary action had been taken toward the preparation of a bill to be introduced when Congress meets, carrying an appropriation to cover expense. He also reported the co-operation of the Eckington and Northern Washington Citizens' Association. On his motion the other associations were officially re-committed to cooperate, and to appoint committees to act with this committee.

The Langdon committee was increased to five members. The committee now consists of Messrs. L. H. Patterson, J. G. Darfee, J. J. Baker, E. A. M. Lawson, and Dr. Leomin.

Messrs. S. T. Hays, L. H. Patterson, J. G. Darfee, J. J. Baker, and E. P. Sherman were appointed a committee to call upon the District Commissioners, on the 11th, to improve of Queen's Chapel Road, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, and Thirtieth streets, out of the present appropriations.

Mme. Vale's HAIR TONIC.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It affords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to Mme. Vale's Excelsior Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns grey hair back to its original color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. M. Vale—wonderful woman chemist—has made the most valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Vale personally endorses its action and gives the public her solemn guarantee that it has been tested in every conceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY HAIR SPECIFIC. IT STOPS HAIR FALLING. Immediately it creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no injurious ingredients. Physicians and chemists invited to analyze it. It is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary, it makes the hair soft, youthful, fluffy, and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen, it makes the hair with a little grey, streaked grey, entirely grey, and with bald heads, it is especially recommended.

Mr. Robert R. Hill and Mrs. Hill have opened their Washington home, but owing to the death of Mrs. Hill's mother, Mrs. Reynolds, they will take no part in the social life of the Capital this season.

Mrs. Henry May and Miss May, who are now in New York, will shortly return to Washington and open their K Street residence.

Fashionable lovers of art were well represented at the private view of the paintings of Mrs. Barney in the Hemicycle of the Corcoran Gallery of Art yesterday afternoon. The artist herself, handsome in black velvet than the portrait of herself, which heads the list of fifty-five exhibits, was present throughout the two hours the hall was open, chatting with critics and acquaintances, and greeting friends, many of whom she met for the first time since her return from abroad. Groups of artists and students made the rounds of the room, studying carefully the work of Mrs. Barney, whose efforts for the past two years are expressed in a collection that serves as a monument to her industry and artistic skill.

While her subjects, with the exception of an impression or two, are mainly feminine figures and heads, both realistic and ideal, the artist has the opinion of two well-known portrait painters, who shared a catalogue together, that Nov. 22, 23, 24, and 25, studies of men, models, and the portraits of Mr. Alfred Clifford Barney, Mr. Howard Hinkle, and Mr. John H. Johnson, are the artist's most and most successful work. The portrait of Mrs. Barney, which is the most valuable of all chemical discoveries, Mme. Vale personally endorses its action and gives the public her solemn guarantee that it has been tested in every conceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY HAIR SPECIFIC. IT STOPS HAIR FALLING. Immediately it creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no injurious ingredients. Physicians and chemists invited to analyze it. For gentlemen, it makes the hair with a little grey, streaked grey, entirely grey, and with bald heads, it is especially recommended.

With a clear sky and a good going the Chevy Chase Hounds had their initial run of the season yesterday afternoon. The meet was at the club house, at 3 p. m. The hounds were cast just west of the club, and led riders a merry gallop around the golf course, these bearing off to the northeast toward Seventh Street park, where some good jumping was encountered; then north, and through the Dunbar Park, then taking the in and out so well known to the hunting contingent of Washington, and finishing just between the club and the Chevy Chase Inn.

The pack was in the pink of condition, and ran fast and true from the east to the finish, and the horses, considering the little work that they have had, performed splendidly. The appointments of the hunt were excellent, and the field rode well in their positions.

Among those in the saddle were Mr. Gust Blair, on "Thunder," the acting master in the absence of Mr. Clarence Moore, F. H. C. Smith, F. H. H. Smith, E. H. H. Smith, "Tiptop," J. Ford Thompson, on "Kamloops," John Larcombe, on "Jackpot," Andrew Bradley, on "Midi," C. B. Bites on "Minoola," R. S. Hildekoper, on "Piddleticks," William C. Morrow, on "Kaindoo," Harmon Sig, on "Bill," Dr. A. A. Snyder, on "Booster," Edward M. Lath, Beale Bloomer, and M. Gold.

The hunt and a merry gallop at the start and finish, as there were many members at the club account of the finals of the golf and rope tournaments.

Among those who viewed the hunt from the road were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mitchell, Gen. and Mrs. Wallace Randolph, Mr. George Howard, ex-Governor and Miss Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. H. Mrs. Perin, Miss Claggett, Miss Wallach, Miss McCauley, and Miss Hoy.

Dr. E. K. Goldsborough and Miss Julia P. Goldsborough, of K Street, authorize the denial of the reported engagement of Miss Goldsborough to a young army officer. Mrs. Goldsborough, who is out of town, is expected home during the coming week. Her daughter is to be one of the debutantes of the early winter.

"Rummage sales" are curious affairs. They include everything, and nothing seems to go amiss. The ladies of the Na-
